What if you're not counted?

Belle Glade's Special Census is continuing this week with special census takers canvassing neighborhoods throughout the city.

Some city residents have become concerned because the enumerators have not yet been to their home.

If you feel you have been missed and want to make sure you are counted, city hall would like to hear from you!

Call the Assistant to the City Manager, Sue Teets, at 996-0100.

Comm. Foster to be in Glades

County Commissioner Ken Foster will be in the Glades February 8 to meet with constituents.

Anyone who would like to speak to Commissioner Foster can call Sue Bailey, administrative aide, at 996-4814 to set up an appointment.

January has been a wet month

January has started out to be a wet month for the Glades, according to the South Florida Water Management District.

Rainfall District-wide has averaged 3.37 inches - normal for the entire month is 1.94 inches.

The level of Lake Okeechobee as of January 12 is 16.14 feet. Normal for January is 14.43 feet.

Mrs. Hand named chairman of board

Frances R. (Dolly) Hand was elected chairperson of the Board of the Bank of Belle Glade at its annual meeting January 13.

Mrs. Hand is only the third chairperson in the bank's 30 year history, having been preceded by G.L. Royal, Jr. who is still serving on the board, and C.A. (Mutt) Thomas who is retired and serving as Director Emeritus.

Mrs. Hand has been affiliated with the bank as a director since 1986 and is a member of its Executive Committee.

Other directors elected were Lenwood Fuller, W. Wayne Mikell, G.L. Royal, Jr., Frank D. Teets, and George H. Wedgworth.

Puppet Workshop

Cannal Point United Methodist Church will host a Puppet Workshop, Saturday, January 23, from 9:30 a.m. till 2 p.m.

Master puppeteer Sue McCracken from Stuart will be the instructor.

The workshop is designed to benefit both the beginner and the advanced student of puppetry.

Mrs. McCracken will give valuable instructions on how to manipulate puppets with "hands-on" training for everyone.

There is no cost for this workshop. For more information, call the church at 924-7325.

South Bay's city attorney resigns

By BRENDA BUNTING
SUN Editor

A surprise announcement was given to South Bay City Commissioners Tuesday night when their attorney, Thomas Montgomery, resigned, effective February 1.

"I'm forced to resign as city attorney because I do not want to appear to have a conflict of interest," he told the commission.

Mr. Montgomery, who has been the city's attorney for almost 9 years, said his firm has received a contract with Palm Beach County to represent indigent criminal defendants.

His firm has had the contract for several years, but just recently the county decided to move the contract to Belle Glade, he said.

"There is a good possibility I might get a case out of South Bay," he said, noting that some of those cases could come from the recent riots in the city.

"There were a number of people arrested and we could get some of those cases," he said.

Vice Mayor Willie Marshall, who was presiding at the meeting in the absence of Mayor Clarence Anthony, told Mr. Montgomery it was going to be difficult to find an attorney in two weeks, "especially one as good as you," he added.

"This is somewhat of a surprise, but I've enjoyed working with you," Mr. Marshall told the attorney.

Other commissioners also expressed their disappointment at the resignation, but voted to accept the attorney's resignation.

Mr. Marshall said the city will begin advertising for the position as soon as possible.

Mr. Montgomery said he would continue to serve on the Civil Service Board and would play on the city's volleyball team.

"I have enjoyed working with all of you and I will continue to provide support because I am 'of the Glades,'" said Mr. Montgomery.

In other business, the commission approved a tentative teaming agreement with Zimmerman Development of West Palm Beach to pursue development of the South Bay Refugee Integration Complex.

The complex will house Haitian refugees as well as other refugee groups through the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The processing center will provide for orientation, evaluation, initial emergency medical and health care, immigration hearings and placement services for families.

The facility could house up to 1,300 people.

Commissioners are looking at a site now known as the Brady Property that is currently owned by the state.

The city has applied for a grant to purchase 26 acres of the property.

Glades pioneer A.R. Harrington dies

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon for Glades pioneer and farmer A. Roswell Harrington, Sr., age 86, who died Tuesday, January 12 at Everglades Memorial Hospital, Pahokee.

Mr. Harrington had been a resident of Canal Point since moving from Morven, Georgia in 1929.

For 63 years he farmed in Canal Point as A.R. Harrington Farms. In 1966 his family was recognized as "Farm Family of the Year" for Palm Beach County.

A native of Brooks County, Georgia, he was born on July 28, 1906, son of the late Bryant Platt and Iola May Rogers.

Lights out...at the intersection of U.S. 27 and S.R. 80 in South Bay Tuesday afternoon after two tractor-trailers collided there. The truck in the foreground, operated by Watson Trucking Service, Inc., of Tampa, was driven by Billy N. Price, 37, of 3813 E. Crawford, Tampa. He was traveling north on U.S. 27 when he hit the United Van Lines tractor-trailer in the background driven by Edger Hayden Dale IV, 31, of 3918 Ace Street, Houston, Texas. Dale was turning left from U.S. 27's southbound lane onto S.R. 80. After the impact, Price's truck knocked down the light pole which supported the traffic signals over the intersection. The pole fell atop the other truck and threw the traffic lights into the street. Both men were treated and released at Glades General hospital. Dale was then arrested on two 1988 warrants for grand theft and forgery in Dade City, Florida. Dale failed to yield the right-of-way, according to South Bay Police. The signal lights remained out until about 11 p.m. when temporary lights were installed.

Two brothers injured when their ATV flips in the street

Two West Palm Beach youngsters were injured, one critically, when the "four-wheeler" all-terrain-vehicle they were riding flipped over Monday afternoon at the intersection of S.W. 9th and S.W. Avenue G in Belle Glade.

Clarence Robinson, 6, of 6193 Newton Woods Drive in West Palm Beach, remains in serious condition at St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach after being airlifted there by Trauma Hawk from Glades General Hospital.

He was riding behind his brother David, 11, who was operating the off-road vehicle.

David was treated and released at Glades General Hospital.

Belle Glade Police Officer Clarence Throop said the boys were riding behind a two-wheel off-road-vehicle on S.W. 10th when the two-wheeler turned onto Avenue G. Someone yelled at the boy operating the two-wheeler to slow down and he stopped suddenly, said Officer Throop. The four-wheeler tried to stop quickly and overturned, throwing Clarence onto the pavement where he hit his head.

Eddie Alford, 22, of 908 S.W. Avenue G Place, told Officer Throop he had seen what happened. Keith Cain, 25, of 566 S.W. 2nd Street, loaded the injured boys into his Bronco and took them to the hospital, said Throop.

"By the time I got there everything was gone," said Officer Throop.

Throop said the boys were visiting friends on S.W. 8th Street.

No charges have been filed and an investigation is underway.

Man breaks window at McCrory - says he wants to go to jail

A man who broke a window at McCrory Department Store January 14 said he did it on purpose so he would be taken to jail.

Terry Andre Hicks, 24, was arrested and given his wish after Belle Glade Police Officer John Cook arrived at the store, located at 201 West Avenue A, and found Hicks waiting for officers.

After throwing the rock and attempting to break into the store, Hicks called police and waited for their arrival.

He told Officer Cook he wanted to go to jail to get help with his drug problem.

He was arrested and charged with attempted burglary and criminal mischief. He was later taken to the Palm Beach County Jail under a $1,000 bond.

Hicks gave no permanent address.

Happy Birthday...Martin Luther King, Jr. Hundreds of marchers took to the streets of Pahokee Monday to celebrate the famous civil rights advocate's birthday. The parade wound through town and ended at Martin Luther King Park where a day of festivities continued. Area citizens and city officials made speeches. Booths were set up in the park and lots of good food disappeared.

Gospel group Ekklesia to perform at Saturday's Muckstepper's Reunion

Homegrown, classic and on the fast track in their quest for recognition among contemporary gospel groups, Ekklesia will be among the lineup of performers at the Muckstepper's Reunion festival on Saturday, January 23.

The group will perform at 3:15 p.m. on Saturday during the Muckstepper's main festival. They will join musical performers and storytellers from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on the festival site from 10th Street to 12th Street on S.W. Martin Luther King Blvd. in Belle Glade.

Ekklesia, which means "the chosen" in Greek, features local musicians and friends Zarak Lawson, Kenneth Jackson, Timothy Abrams and Hastings, Florida native Rev. Darryl R. Middlebrook, has been performing semi-professionally for the past three years.

Their performance history includes a performance at SunFest in West Palm Beach in 1991, where they were the only gospel act to perform. The event that year attracted an audience of more than 100,000.

Recognized for their original musical and vocal compositions, Ekklesia has performed at several other major festivals and fairs throughout Florida. These include the Florida Folk Festival, the South Florida Fair, the Black Gold Jubilee and the Grassy Waters Festival. The group was also one of the featured acts for Grammy-nominated Kane Allen's revival in Miami.

The have recently cut their first demo cassette.

Muckstepper's Reunion will begin at 10 a.m. featuring various storytellers and musicians and will end Sunday afternoon with an event at the Lake Shore Civic Center at 4 p.m.

Around Campus with the Blue Devils

BY TEQUESTA MCKINNEY
South Florida Fair

As I am sure everyone is aware, the South Florida Fair has arrived in West Palm Beach. The fair is one of the most anticipated forms of entertainment to people of all ages.

Luckily, here at P.H.S. Mr. Eve, an environmental teacher will be accompanying some of P.H.S.'s very own students to the fair this year.

The students are involved in a series of competitions. The competitions are livestock, diary goats, horticulture, vegetables, horses and dairy cattle competitions.

Each event is separate from the other. There will be four teams of ESE students. The Pahokee chapter of Future Farmers of America will also enter the booth competitions. Good luck to all the students in their events.

Field trip

Recently at Pahokee Middle Sr. High School there was a field trip for the eighth graders. The eighth graders went to the Dolly Hand Cultural Center accompanied by their chaperone Mrs. Jeanette Burroughs. The students that participated were language arts students.

The students enjoyed Peter Samelson's theater's performance included magic tricks, comedy and pantomime.

He threw fire and made paper explode, rubbed paper together in his hands and made snowflakes and he also levitated a student from another school.

Congratulations!

Essay Winners

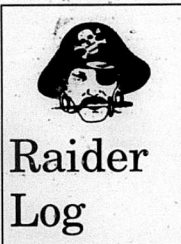

Essay winners in the Martin Luther King, Jr. essay contest sponsored by the Urban League of West Palm Beach were first place, Dahlia Forbe and Wilford Ewan, in their divisions. Freshman Alfred Dennard earned a third.

The awards presentation was held on Saturday. The contest's theme was "Live the Dream - Let Freedom Ring."

Ricketts Finalist

Sharon Ricketts has been selected as a finalist in the Senate Scholarship program. her final interview will be held at Clay County School Board offices on January 23.

If she wins, she will be an ambassador from Florida and live in Finland for six weeks, all expenses paid.

Barnett Bank names new bank president

Richard Coleman

Richard Coleman has taken over the reins of Barnett Bank of Lake Okechobee, following the recent retirement of long-time president Tom Hebel.

Mr. Coleman, who has 25 years of banking experience, was the executive vice president and chief operating officer, a position he held for 12 years.

He has a bachelor of arts degree in Economics from Lynchburg, Virginia and took a position with Fidelity American Bankshares in Lynchburg. He remained with them for 14 years and during the last nine years he was president and CEO of Fidelity American Bank of Natural Bridge.

During that time, he also attended and graduated from the School of Banking of the South at Louisiana State University.

He furthered his education and received his Master's Degree in Business Administration from James Madison University in Harrisonburg, Virginia.

He said that when he joined the team at the bank 12 years ago, the assets were approaching $50 million. With pride; he said, that figure is currently approaching $200 million.

The bank is now located in three counties, with branch offices in two Okeechobee locations besides the main location, and also in Moore Haven and Belle Glade.

His final trick was to escape from a straight jacket within one minute's time. A student Damn Potter and Mrs. Burroughs were chosen to assist him. Mr. Samelson told the story of his interest in magic since childhood and spoke to the students about using their minds for better things than drugs and alcohol.

Mr. Samelson explained that magic is looking beyond the obvious and all students would benefit from learning it.

A great loss

There will be a sad day for the special education students who have been under the instruction of Mrs. Inman. Mrs. Inman will be leaving P.H.S. next Friday, January 22.

Mrs. Inman has been at P.H.S. for four years. When Mrs. Inman leaves P.H.S. she will be going to the Palm Beach County Halfway house in Lantana.

Mrs. Inman says P.H.S. was her first teaching job, she feels like it's her home.

When asked how she feels about leaving she says she feels like she's leaving behind her friends and family.

Mrs. Inman wishes to send this message to her students: "Just because I'm not here does not mean that you guys aren't on my mind. Some of you touched my heart and I will really miss you."

"I will be keeping track of your progress. Give it two weeks before you dismiss me from your lives."

And to her colleagues Mrs. Inman says: "Thanks it's been real."

Black history

It's Black History month in February. Pahokee Jr. Sr. High School has planned a tentative cultural extravaganza to celebrate the month of February. Any students who wish to participate in any of the planned events should see Ms. Atkins, Ms. Shaw, or Mrs. Bass.

Taurus Lovely gave a solo performance on the xylophone.

Other assemblies will be held on February 5th for a Black History program and February 26th for a Cultural Day program.

Oratorical Contest

An oratorical contest sponsored by mayor Clarence E. Anthony, South Bay Attorney Mamie E. Washington, and Rosenwald Elementary was held January 19th. Some participants were Sharika Brown, Anthony Parrish, Zenita Lawson, and Sharon Ricketts.

Last Note

Hope everybody survived those semester exams! Enjoy the three day weekend, and remember the Spelling Bee coming January 29th.

Stiles-Blackwell unite in double ring ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blackwell

Linda Faye Stiles and Robert (Johnny) Blackwell were united in marriage December 31 at the First Baptist Church, Clewiston.

Dr. Ken Reaves, pastor, performed the 7 p.m. double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with garlands of greenery and red velvet bows, complimenting the Christmas season. Branched floor candelabra with white candles were placed on each side of the altar. Mrs. Evelyn Fletcher, organist, played nuptial music and the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. Jenny Miller, pianist, accompanied the soloists, Mrs. Jo Stiles and Joe Glass.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Charles Newman. She wore a blue tulle-length chiffon skirt with a matching Alencon lace jacket and matching shoes. She carried a bouquet of ivory tea roses, carnations and baby's breath accented with ivory ribbon.

The matron of honor was Hellen Stacy of Belle Glade. She wore a floral print dress in shades of blush with green accents and matching shoes. Her bouquet was ivory tea roses with pink carnations and baby's breath with green ribbon.

The groom chose Charles Twiddy, a long-time friend, as his best man. They were both attired in black tuxedos with white carnation boutonnières. Ushers were Thomas Frederick and Gregory Newman.

Martha Lynn Weeks kept the bride's book.

The reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with sugar bells. Phyllis Pursell served the cake. The punch was served by Sally Kelley and Claudine Warren. Hors d'oeuvres were served from a tee-shaped table covered with a lace trimmed sheer cloth.

After a honeymoon tour to points of interest in Florida, the couple will be at home at 545 Avenida Del Rio, Clewiston.

Clinton and jobs

Bill Clinton stated correctly during the presidential campaign that virtually no new jobs were created during President Bush's tenure in the White House. Although roughly two million jobs a year were created in the United States from 1970 to 1989, job expansion has been virtually stagnant since.

The newly elected president has made it clear that "doing something about jobs and the economy" is his top priority. However, as we demonstrate in our forthcoming book, Out of Work: Unemployment and Government in Twentieth-Century America, published for the Independent Institute, Clinton's best strategy would be to move decisively to end the government programs that have, in fact, caused the decline in new job growth.

When labor markets are allowed to operate without interference, as was the case, for example, after both world wars, the economy adjusts quickly to changing circumstances. But, when intervention and manipulation occur, such as by Presidents Hoover and Roosevelt during the Great Depression, the result almost always is prolonged unemployment and low, or no, job growth.

The law of demand, in other words, applies to labor markets in the same way it applies to other goods and services. When labor is less expensive, more people are hired. When the cost of hiring workers rises, less hiring is done.

What turned a modest recession in the late 1920s into the Great Depression was a government-supported, high-wage policy that priced labor out of the market. Likewise, the 1990 recession was partially triggered by large wage increases.

During the impressive economic expansion from 1983 to 1989, hourly wage costs (including fringe benefits) rose slightly more than four percent per year. After adjusting for inflation and some increase in the productivity of workers, labor costs actually fell as a percentage of sales, making hiring more attractive.

Beginning in 1989, however, hourly wage costs started to rise at a faster rate and then soared to an annual rate of eight percent in the second quarter of 1990. Why? One major factor was the 13.4 percent increase in the federal minimum wage that took effect the first day of that quarter.

The result was that the soaring labor costs reduced employment which, in time, led to smaller wage increases, setting the stage for a market-based recovery. Then, on April 1, 1991, another large increase in the federal minimum wage forced up labor costs at an annual rate of five percent, thwarting that potential recovery.

Other recent legislation has also aggravated joblessness. On three occasions, for example, Congress extended unemployment insurance benefits, causing the unemployed to be more choosy about what work they would accept and also increasing what economists call the "reservation" (the minimally acceptable wage) of the unemployed, further retarding job growth.

To have both new job opportunities and a rising standard of living, labor hour worked -- must go up. In recent years, several pieces of new legislation have retarded productivity growth, such as the 1990 amendments to the Clean Air Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and the 1991 Civil Rights Act.

By restricting the ability of employers to use labor and capital inputs to maximize productivity, new regulations arising from these laws continue to hold back the economic recovery.

President-elect Clinton's campaign promises do not bode well for an easing of unemployment. He favors indexing the minimum wage, allowing it to rise on a continual basis.

His health care proposals would lead to a huge increase in the cost of fringe benefits associated with health care, which can only be financed by lowering money wages, by raising prices, or by reducing profits, all of which would lead to a reduction in jobs.

And finally, the higher income taxes he has in mind also will tend to reduce labor inputs.

One of the nation's most serious economic problems is stagnating labor productivity which, since 1970, has risen less than one percent per year in the United States compared with a three percent annual growth rate from 1947 to 1970.

Editor's note: Richard Vedder and Lowell Galloway teach economics at Ohio University and are research fellows with the Independent Institute in Oakland, California. This article was distributed by the James Madison Institute for Public Policy Studies in Tallahassee, Florida.

Study shows males, females have fundamental differences in how they communicate

Women view men as more dominant in relationships than even the men view themselves, according to a University of Florida psychologist who has researched communication between the sexes.

The two sexes have fundamental differences in the way they communicate and those differences often can lead to tension and disagreement within relationships, according to Ruth Ann Herman, a doctoral candidate in UF's psychology program who based her findings on the study of 42 heterosexual couples. At least one member of the couple was a UF student.

"The differences can be subtle, but they are there," Herman said. "Most couples don't necessarily have to change the way they communicate, but they do have to realize that their partner may use different communication methods. When that doesn't happen, then there may be trouble within a relationship."

Herman divided communication between the couples into two categories, affiliative and dominant. Affiliative communication stresses support, understanding and expressiveness, while dominant communication is driven by status and control.

Both partners in the study considered themselves and their partners as mostly affiliative, but Herman's research found that women viewed the men as more dominant than the men viewed themselves.

"It doesn't matter if in fact the men are more dominant if the perception on the part of the women is that they are," Herman said. "This type of finding has a lot of implications as far as couples counseling goes."

To study the methods of communication, Herman had couples engage in conversations about things that can cause stress in relationships, like finances, how to spend leisure time, and the impending departure of one partner.

She videotaped the conversations and then replayed them, asking the women and men to write down what they were thinking during parts of the discussion, as well as what they believed their partner to be thinking.

"The females tended to feel a little self-conscious when they viewed themselves on videotape," Herman said. "But overall, people weren't too surprised with what they saw. Most felt it was enlightening to see themselves interact with their partners. They said it helped them understand their feelings."

The reasons for the difference in communication styles, Herman said, can be traced to upbringing.

"When we are children, the boys play with the boys and the girls play with the girls," she said. "Now, when we are in our teens and 20s, we are told that we have to play together. In the long term, what we need to do is tone down the difference in socialization that all of us get when we are younger."

Road needs reflectors

I'm a concerned motorist who drives between Port Mayaca and Pahokee every day. The roads are so poorly marked, without reflectors, that when it rains at night the road seems to disappear.

I'm not asking them to pave the road, but how expensive could it be to put up reflectors and repaint the lines?

Again, I'm just a concerned motorist.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

I'm writing this letter in the hopes that you will be gracious enough to run it in your newspaper.

This is about a remark that was made recently by a person who was commenting on the Canal Point Fire Department and the volunteer firefighters and E.M.T.s.

How can someone stand there and say that these individuals are on ego trips when they have often spent hundreds of hours in classrooms on their own time, learning the proper ways of handling fire and rescue situations? Their own time, away from their homes and families, and for what? Certainly not ego trips! — But to help, not only their own families and friends, but others, as well.

I did not join the Canal Point Volunteer Fire Department for personal gain or because of my ego. I joined this organization to help my community, family and friends.

When someone puts their own life in jeopardy to help others, I just don't understand how another person can say that they are on personal ego trips.

Sincerely,

William D. Woodard
 Volunteer Firefighter

Canal Point Volunteer Fire Department

P.S. — And very proud of it!

Her small child comforted me...

By Paul Toell

Editor's note: Mr. Toell does not live in the Glades, but sent us this letter in hope that our readers would enjoy it.

On December 17, 1992 a close friend of mine passed away. Her name was Madeline and she was only 32 years young. Her death was unexpected and an enormous shock to the family. She was a sister to me.

Madeline was a single parent and survived by her two sons: Steven, 15 and Daniel, 14 and her daughter, Alexandria, age 5.

At the funeral home I stood by Madeline and said a prayer. Her daughter, Alexandria, felt her mother's face and said to me, "Feel her face, Uncle Paul, it's cold."

I nodded and said, "I know, Alex." Alexandria replied, "FEEL IT!" I then felt her mother's face because I knew that Alex wasn't going to just drop the issue.

Of course her face felt cold...but I had no explanation for the child.

Later that night, I was sitting with Alex and her seven year old cousin, Lauren.

Lauren had mentioned that her Aunt Madeline had looked different. Alex then said, "I know...and her face was cold...because when she was alive her spirit kept her warm; and when she died the spirit left her and she was cold."

My eyes opened wide. I said to Alex that that was beautiful and that she was exactly right. But I had never heard that explanation before.

I then stopped and thought about it. It made sense to me. The cold body that remained in the casket was spiritless.

I felt peace within me; a kind of knowing...that I cannot explain.

Day after day I think of my friend Madeline. She had so much life...so much spirit.

Alexandria believes with all her soul that her mommy's spirit is in heaven. And I do too.

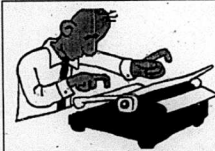

Thank you, Alexandria, for comforting me.

Thank you, Madeline, for being my friend...forever!

Knightly News

It is official! The results of the "House of Lloyd" fundraiser are in. The top salesperson in the high school was Emilio Graveran, who chose a ten-speed mountain bike. Kaleb Sizemore was the second place winner, and she received a portable compact disc player.

Subscribe to THE SUN

The top class for the high school was the eighth grade, who was given a pizza party. The tenth grade enjoyed a hot fundae for finishing second in the contest.

The top salesperson in the elementary grades was Farrah Shumats, and Eric Pazzi finished at a close second. The top class was the fourth grade, and second place went to the fifth grade. Other winners enjoyed "Terrific Tuesday," where they were allowed to miss a half a day of school. Several students received gift certificates for the Christian bookstore - The Inspiration House.

This year's fundraiser was a major success. The money will be used to furnish the classrooms with new desks and other furniture. Thank you to everyone who participated!

January 25th through the 29th is termed "Spirit Week" at Christian Day School. Several of the activities that will occur that week include: "Camouflage/Sportsman Day," "Western Day," musical chairs, the ballroom bust, marshmallow stuff, lip-synce contest and much, much more! All of the activities for "Spirit Week" are in preparation for the homecoming game Friday, January 29th at 8 p.m.

The boys' varsity basketball team will be challenging Miami, Brito, so come out and support your Crusaders!

Gator Tales

With first semester exams over, Glades Day students can breathe a sigh of relief before buckling down for the second term. Results of their work will be sent out this week with report cards.

Parents of sophomores better have their checkbooks ready. A representative from Herff Jones met with students earlier this week with information on class rings and the tenth graders may order the ring of their choice this Friday, January 22. A deposit will be required.

FCA members get a start on the new year by coming to Craig Dobson hosted a meeting at his home on January 6. Almost 25 members showed up along with sponsor Rita Schoenfeld and assistant advisor Rod Ruby to play games and share their faith with one another. Everyone had such a good time they voted to have the next meeting there also. Be ready, Coach Dobson!

GDS received some good news from our yearbook publishing company last week. The '92 GATOR yearbook has been selected as a finalist for The 1993 Yearbook, Taylor Publishing Company's annual collection of yearbook design and copywriting excellence. Each year, yearbooks published by Taylor are judged for achievement in cover design, theme development, page design, and copywriting. As a finalist, Glades Day's yearbook placed in the top ten percent of all the yearbooks evaluated. Congratulations! Elementary students have been busy since the holiday break. Thirty-seven sixth graders completed a 17-week Drug Abuse Resistance Education (D.A.R.E.) in a joint effort with the Belle Glade Police Department designed to prevent drug abuse in today's youth.

Taught by Kent Davis of the BGPD, the students learned about the different kinds of drugs, how they were available, and the dangers they incur through use. CONGRATULATIONS TO ISRAEL BAEZ, JR., who was presented with a black satin D.A.R.E. jacket for his winning essay on how the D.A.R.E. program affected him.

A NOTE TO PARENTS AND ALUMNI - GDS still has some old football game jerseys on sale in the high school office. All of the green are sold out but some white jerseys are still available for $10 each.

There is no scientific evidence to suggest that migraine and other common headache disorders are true allergic conditions. According to experts at the American Council for Headache Education (ACHE), since allergy and headache are highly prevalent in the general population, there's bound to be an overlap between the two. In other words, the same person may suffer from both allergy and migraine. Treating the allergy may not benefit the headache. A word of caution: if your doctor plans to give you allergy injections, let him or her know the list of medications you are taking for migraine control, as there can be some unexpected reactions.

WHIPLASH

Whiplash injuries can result from a sudden backward and forward whipping movement of the neck, caused by an auto collision, a fall, a powerful slap on the back, or even a violent sneeze. The ligaments and muscles controlling the spinal segments are stretched or sprained, allowing the vertebrae to slip into abnormal positions. Nerves are then "pinched" or irritated, giving rise to headaches, nausea, dizziness and other pain.

Raider Wrestlers' Rampage rolling

Not only does it hurt...but it's illegal. Above, William T. Dwyer's Thomas Jeanneret gets called for an illegal headlock on Glades Central Community High School's Andre Finkley in the 125 lb. class during last Wednesday's match at GCCHS' gym. Andre won his match 9 - 4, and, GCCHS Raider Wrestlers beat the WLDwyer Panthers 60 - 6. Finkley is undefeated in five matches.

SUNPHOTO BY CHIP NEWTON

Familiarity breeds...contentment, in this case, at least. Here we see Glades Central Community High School junior varsity wrestler Brock Evans pinning William T. Dwyer wrestler T. Bandy in 3:23 last Wednesday afternoon. The Raiders won the match, blasting the Panthers 60 - 6.

SUNPHOTO BY CHIP NEWTON

They don't let up.

The Raider Wrestlers are continuing a streak of wins, beating Boca Raton 51 - 20 last Tuesday and blasting William T. Dwyer 60 - 6 on Wednesday.

In Tuesday's match, Alfred Dennard, Reggie Butts, Jerry Seymore, Willie Dunning, Levon Williams, Josh Saddler, Joe Brown, and Lenardo Ellick won their matches.

In Wednesday's match against William T. Dwyer, Raider winners were Trafori Bailey, Alfred Dennard, Andre Finkley, Reggie Butts, Jerry Seymore, Willie Dunning, Charles Charlestin, Levon Williams, Josh Saddler, Joaquin McGowan, and Joe Brown.

At mid-season, stat leaders for the Raiders include:

Take-downs:
Willie Dunning - 48
Jerry Seymore - 35

Joaquin McGowan - 31

Pins:

Lenardo Ellick - 10

Reggie Butts - 6

Joe Brown - 5

Undefeated:

Andre Finkley 5-0

Willie Dunning 13 - 0

Reggie Butts 13 - 0

It costs $2 to see the Raiders wrestle at home: A bargain!

February 4 the team hosts Wellington for their last at-home match of the season.

It's your last chance to see them without driving across the county.

Also, it's your last chance to have your name put in the hat for the drawing for dinner-cruise tickets.

Your congratulations to the Raider wrestlers!

Lady Raiders STILL on top

Glades Central Community High School's Lady Raider Basketball Team remains undefeated after sixteen games.

They remain ranked number one in Florida.

Last Thursday the girls beat Lake Worth, 69 - 31.

In that game, Shundra Smith scored 27 points on thirteen from the floor and three-of-five from the line.

Temple Dowdell scored 21 on eight from the floor and five-of-eight from the line.

Anjeanette Gilbert contributed ten points on five shots from the floor.

Phyllis Brooks made five points on two from the floor and one-of-four from the line. And, Tarneshia Browning added two from the floor for four points.

Pahokee Winter Basketball League keeping folks busy

In the Midget Division, Larry's Swifty beat Lake Shore Press; L. Garrett led Swifty's scoring with eight points; G. McCloud had four points for Lake Shore.

Video Movies beat Bryant hardware 20 - 3; K. Smith had eight points for Video; C. Williams scored all of Bryant's points.

In Junior Division, Dixie Fried Chicken beat Thriftway 30 - 24; L. Lammons had ten points for the winners; K. Baldwin had 14 for Thriftway.

Lewis Friend Farms had its first win, beating Bank of Pahokee 30 - 23; K. Jenkins and J. Sneed combined to score all points for the Bank.

In Senior Division, Dr. Provenziale beat Pahokee Army Store 24 - 23 with E. Harden scoring 17 points. Pahokee Army will forfeit their next game due to unsportsmanlike conduct.

CYCI beat Pahokee Church of God 79 - 53 with T. Lawler scoring 34 points.

UDAP beat Basore Farms 39-37

Glades Day Basketball

Jupiter Christian beat all three Glades Day basketball teams Friday; girls 43-31; JV boys, 62-56; varsity boys, 68-54.

In the girls' game, Cathy Sears scored nine points for the Gators, including one three-pointer, and Marcy Angel, Sara Woodham, Jaci Davis, and Carmen Ruiz each hit for four points. Woodham was ejected from the game and suspended from the ladies' next game for flagrant unsportsmanlike conduct after she slapped at a Jupiter Christian girl who had grabbed her hard from behind.

Hani Barhoush drew a T-foul for verbally harassing a JC player. Barhoush had just fouled out of the game in which he was the high scorer with 15 points.

Danny Crum had eleven points, Tommy King had seven, and Jackie Garrett had five.

In the closing seconds of the game, a GD fan threw a cup of ice onto the court, costing the Gators six more T-fouls.

CD Boys win two more

Calvin Bowens had thirteen points-Friday as the Crusaders beat the King's Academy Lions 55-51.

Bowens' points came on five shots from the floor and three-of-five from the line.

Scott Heading hit five from the floor and two-of-seven from the line for twelve points, and Moises Morales hit three from the floor and three-of-six from the line for nine points.

Keith Hilyer and Gus Peavy each scored seven points, and Chris Cunningham scored six.

Saturday, the boys beat St. Edwards 73-32.

Bowens had 25 points in that game.

Outstanding player...is Glades Day School's Cathy Sears. She's seen here after stealing the ball from an unhappy Jupiter Christian player last Friday when the Lady Gators lost to JC 43-31. Sears had nine points in a rough and tumble game that saw Sara Woodham ejected for flagrant unsportsmanlike conduct. Sears is a tough competitor who never lets up from starting to the ending buzzers.

Mr. Jack Daniel's Silver Cornet Band to perform at Dolly Hand

Picture it.

The year is 1905. It is a warm summer evening in Lynchburg, Tennessee...a perfect night for a band concert.

It is a quiet, more gentle, and eminently more peaceful period before the phonograph, the telephone, the motor car or moving picture.

Small town bands, amateur brass or "silver cornet" bands are the cultural hub around which rural America revolves.

Back at the turn of the century, Mr. Jack Daniel's

Original Silver Cornet Band played for the fun of it...and the pride of the people of Lynchburg went with them.

In the same spirit, this concert is offered for the enjoyment of Glades residents in a return performance at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center on Thursday, January 28 at 8 p.m.

Touring the United States Since 1978, Mr. Jack Daniel's Original Silver Cornet Band brings to life the sights and sounds of a vanished era in American musical history via a 12 piece band of Tennessee musicians dedicated to playing the music of the small town bands of over half a century ago.

Tickets are on sale now at the box office at the Dolly Hand Center. The cost is $18 for adults, $5 for students and tourists providing identification will receive a 50 percent discount.

Call the box office Monday through Friday at 992-6160 to reserve seats.

Mr. Jack Daniels Original Silver Cornet Band

Hometown Saturday Night is the theme for the return performance of Mr. Jack Daniel's Original Silver Cornet Band to appear at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center Thursday, January 28 at 8 p.m. For ticket information call the box office at 992-6160.

New podiatrist opens offices in the Glades

A new podiatrist has opened an office in the Glades. Dr. Daniel Drapacz, DPM, specializes in diseases, injuries and surgery of the foot and he now has an office in Belle Glade and Pahokee.

Dr. Drapacz did his graduate training at the California College of Podiatric Medicine. Of the seven podiatric medical colleges in the United States, Dr. Drapacz says this college is recognized by the podiatric community for producing the higher caliber graduates in the country.

He moved to Palm Beach County in 1990 and joined the private practice of Bruce S. Dribbon, D.P.M.

Before moving to this area, he was an associate with a high volume private practice in Danbury and Norwalk, Connecticut.

Dr. Daniel Drapacz

He is a member of the American College of Foot Surgeons, the American Podiatric Medical Association, the Connecticut Podiatric Medical Association, the Fairfield County Podiatric Medical Association and the New Jersey Podiatric Medical Association.

"My commitment to excellence, for both myself and my patients, means participating in professional organizations to keep current on the latest medical advances," he said.

He is a 1982 graduate of Merit with Hofstra University, Hempstead, NY, and graduated from the California College of Podiatric Medicine in San Francisco in 1988.

He did his residency in podiatric surgery at Livingston Community Hospital and East Orange General Hospital in East Orange, New Jersey from 1988 to 1989 and was chief resident from 1989 to 1990.

His Pahokee office is located at 185 South Barfield Highway. The telephone number is 924-7216, and his Belle Glade office is located at 607 S. Main Street.

James Coney to head recreation at Pioneer Park

County Commissioner Ken Foster, in cooperation with Dennis Eshelman, Director of Palm Beach County Parks and Recreation, announce the hiring of a recreational director for Pioneer Park.

James Coney, Recreational Specialist II, started the new position last week.

"Commissioner Foster determined there is a great need for a full-time recreational specialist at the park, and he has been working diligently to get this for the Glades," said Sue Bailey, his aide.

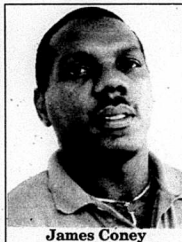

Pioneer Park, located across and down from Palm Beach Community College on SR 715, services from 2,000 to 3,000 kids a year, according to Mr. Coney.

He said he plans to offer more programs at the park and one of his first projects is planning a summer camp offering softball, basketball, soccer and other activities.

Mr. Coney said he grew up in the Glades and understands the ethnic backgrounds and the different cultures in this area. "That should be a help to me," he said.

He graduated from Pahokee High School in the 70s and has worked for the Palm Beach County Parks and Recreation Department for five years.

Mr. Coney is not new to working with youth. He is a volunteer for the Palm Beach

James Coney

Marine Institute, an organization which works with youth who have had a brush with the law. He is also a past correctional officer for Glades Correctional Institution in Belle Glade.

He is a member of the National Youth Coaches Association, which trains volunteers to be certified to volunteer as coaches.

"We're lucky in the Glades to have James," said Mrs. Bailey.

His supervisor, Gail Atkinson, program supervisor for the county, said "Pioneer Park is an at risk area. We hope to build kids' self-esteem and hopefully be able to save some of our youth."

"This position is not a new position," she added, "but one that has been transferred to this area because of the need."

In addition to the activities planned for the youth, Mr. Coney said a community day is scheduled for March so members of the community can see what the park has to offer.

Pioneer Park has two multi-purpose fields, two tennis courts, four basketball courts, a playground area, a concession stand and a picnic area.

Mr. Coney will also be coordinating activities for Padgett Park, just outside the city limits of Pahokee on SR 715.

Anyone who wants to use the parks for activities can call Mr. Coney at 996-8791, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

NOAH gets $1,100 grant

Building Blocks of NOAH, Inc. was recently awarded an $1,100 grant from the Community Foundation for Palm Beach, and Martin Counties.

The purpose of the grant is to support monthly excursions for participants of Building Blocks' teen parenting/prenatal program. This grant will enable the teen program participants to explore the broader world beyond the Glades area and beyond teen parenthood.

Barbara S. Swaby, Family Services Director, said "If we are to impact the escalating pregnancy rate nationally, we must begin in our own communities to set the wheel of change in motion by addressing the underlying needs of teens.

Creating and providing programs and services are vital to increasing the self esteem and curiosity of young adults so their energy and thrust for knowledge will be channeled in the right direction."

"We are grateful to the Community Foundation for necessary to improving the allowing Building Blocks of lives and future of teens in the NOAH, Inc. the opportunity to Glades," she said.
